NEW! ROHO® HYBRID ELITE™ CUSHION

POSITIONING.

Achieve greater ability to position your client with the ROHO Hybrid Elite cushion. Its customized Jay contoured foam base provides you with the opportunity for both lower extremity and pelvic alignment and control.

SKIN PROTECTION.

The ROHO Hybrid Elite cushion hydrostatically loads the ischial tuberosities and the posterior shelf of the greater trochanters for those clients who are at high risk of breakdown. Unparalleled in performance, the ROHO cushion insert allows for immersion and envelopment of the client's individual shape. It provides an adjustable, reduced friction and shear environment that can help protect the client from acquiring pressure ulcers from sitting. The dual valve option on the ROHO insert allows for additional customization to match a client's specific shape and asymmetry.

STABILITY.

The ROHO Hybrid Elite's customized Jay contoured foam base provides improved positioning of the pelvis and lower extremities, enhancing sitting posture. This added stability assists the client in achieving a safer transfer in and out of their wheelchair.

ROHO combines a customized J3 contoured foam base for increased stability and a ROHO DRY FLOATATION Cushion Insert for skin protection. Available in single and dual compartment models.
